SICKLES MAKES PLEA FOR HOME

Tells Officials of Bank Holding Mortgage Foreclosure Would Be His Death Blow.

WIFE MAY COME TO RESCUE

New York, Oct. 10.—Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, who will be ninety-two years old on October 25, today sent a pathetic plea to the president of the Bowery Savings Bank not to turn him out of his home in his old age.

"To lose the home that I have cherished for so many years would be my death blow," was the message in substance sent by the aged warrior. "Give me just a few more days and I will raise the $1500 interest on the first mortgage upon my home held by you. I give you my solemn promise that you will be paid."

As the result of the general's importunities, foreclosure proceedings will not begin before next week.

Gen. Sickles spent most of the day sitting, head in hands, in his curio-filled library at 25 Fifth Avenue. He would receive no visitors. The general's second wife, from whom he has been separated since 1880, will help him, according to the belief of her friends, providing he appears to her in person, and providing also that he agrees to discontinue in the future with the services of Miss Eleanor Earle Wilmerding, the housekeeper, whom Mrs. Sickles holds largely responsible for the present unfortunate state of affairs.

"I am determined that I will never enter that house so long as Miss Wilmerding is there," said Mrs. Sickles, whose claim and vivacity belie her fifty-five years. "My husband has lost a great deal of money in Wall Street through her bad advice."

Fears Harm to Son.

Mrs. Sickles is a bit fearful that personal harm will come to her son, Stanton Sickles, for his recent outspoken declarations regarding the general's relations with a prominent New York society woman. This woman has four men in her immediate family—her husband and three brothers—who are millionaires and powerful in the social and political life of New York. One of them, according to Stanton Sickles, recently has sent an anonymous threat of death to him.

The younger Sickles, who is six feet two inches in height and built in proportion, simply laughs at the idea that physical harm may come to him.

"I should like nothing better than to fight a duel with this woman's husband or one of her brothers," he said today. "But none of them has the nerve to defend her. The reason for this is the fact that her conduct is indefensible. She has mutilated my father of many hundreds of thousands of dollars, and I shall not be content until she is publicly exposed."

ROOSEVELT MEN TAKE NAMES OFF TAFT TICKET

IN KEYSTONE STATE

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 10.—Taft men and Progressives got together here today and cleared up the Presidential election situation. The twenty-seven men on the Taft ticket who favor Col. Roosevelt for President withdrew from the ticket, and their places were filled with the names of men who are for Mr. Taft.

Afterward, under an agreement of the two parties, the Lincoln party withdrew its ticket. Under this title the Taft Republicans had put up a State ticket to be voted by Republicans in case the Roosevelt electors finally refused to get off the Republican ticket.

This leaves the field open for a straight fight between the followers of Col. Roosevelt and Taft. The former cannot use the title "Progressive" because it had been previously used by persons opposed to Col. Roosevelt, and their party in this State is called the Washington party.

From being one of the important egg exporting countries, Canada has become an importer of this product, the home production being inadequate to supply the consumption. In spite of the high prices of poultry and of the price of large profits, the production and finishing of poultry is largely neglected by the farmers.

PROVES SURE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Quickly Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles—Drives All Rheumatic Pains Away.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can be quickly and permanently cured.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, positively does this. It neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys so they filter all the poison from the blood, and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store, such as O'Donnell's Drug Store, Ninth and F Streets, who sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is usually all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome urinary disorders.

OVERWROUGHT NERVES CAUSE

GIVEN BY NURSE WHY SHE

ROBBED HER EMPLOYERS

New York, Oct. 10.—That she stole jewelry from her employers while responsible for her acts from overwrought nerves, due to her work, was the plea offered in the County Court at Yonkers today by Miss Helen Watson, a nurse, twenty-four years old, who came from Chicago three years ago to enter the Long Island College Hospital.

Miss Watson pleaded guilty several days ago to the charge of stealing jewelry and other valuables while employed by the late Mrs. W. B. Devaney, and admitted she had also robbed the homes of Dr. Klier and Frederick Edwards in Brooklyn. When she was brought up for sentence today she declared that she had been employed at night on various occasions and suffered a nervous breakdown, which was responsible for the thefts. She argued that if given another chance she would be able to correct the nervous trouble and make restitution. She was remanded until alienists and character witnesses can be obtained.

Parents and Guilty Sons.

From the New York World.

When a father learns that his son has committed a heinous crime, should he turn him over to the officers of the law? Is his duty to society in the circumstances less grave than his duty to one of his own blood, and is he in any way justified in abetting the youth's escape through concealment?

The confession of the father of Nathan Swartz that he has known the guilty secret of his son all the while the police have been seeking him for the murder of little Julia Connors shows how one father solved the awful moral problem. It is true the elder Swartz advised the boy to throw himself into the river, and certainly no parent can face a worse alternative than confronted him. But does that consideration in any way free him from completely or extenuate his course in concealing the son's crime?

It was not thus that those stern Romans, Brutus and Titus Manlius Torquatus interpreted their parental duties when they without hesitation condemned their sons to death for offenses that merited the penalty. Their example remains for the emulation of fathers cast in less heroic mold but seldom put to the test Swartz failed to meet.

CARRIGAN PRAISES RUBEN MARQUARD; PREDICTS VICTORY

Red Sox Catcher Says Southpaw Pitched a Great Game and Deserves World of Credit.

OTHERS ALSO IN GREAT FORM

By BILL CARRIGAN,
 Red Sox Catcher.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 10.—In the first place I want to give Marquard credit for pitching a grand game of ball. The Ruben had splendid control and "had everything," as the baseball expression goes. We were absolutely unable to connect with his delivery for more than one hit an inning, until just at the close of the game when we began to pound him heavily. This was in the ninth inning.

Herzog gets credit for a putout on Gardner in this inning, but Speaker, who was coaching from the third base box, claimed, as does Gardner himself, that Herzog dropped the ball as he tagged Gardner, but recovered so quickly that the umpire did not see the error, so our chances were all but killed, as it was two out and a man on first. Stahl sent Henrichsen in to run for him and Cady went to bat. He pitched a grand game, but he pitched a grand game for winning the game right then and there, but Devore made a great running catch of it when none of us believed he would be able to get anywhere near the ball.

Rube Makes Great Play.

Marquard may be said to have saved his own game when he knocked down Stahl's rap and got Gardner at third. It was a quick play and he executed it perfectly. The fact that Herzog dropped the throw as Speaker claims does not detract from Marquard's performance.

Now, Buck O'Brien was there with the goods, too. He pitched an exceptionally good game. If you will glance at the score you will see we made eight hits against Marquard while the Giants only got six hits off O'Brien in the eight innings he pitched. Fortunately for them they were able to lead off with two batters in the two innings they made runs. In the first case it was Murray, who in the first inning of the eighth inning he pitched a grand game for winning the game right then and there, but Devore made a great running catch of it when none of us believed he would be able to get anywhere near the ball.

WILSON GIVEN BIG RECEPTION

Huge Crowds Greet Democratic Candidate in Windy City—Hits at T. R. Trust Plank.

BULL MOOSERS CREATE ROW

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Chicago gave Gov. Wilson an old-fashioned political reception today. All the former conflicting factions of the Democratic party combined to welcome him. When the candidate arrived at 10 o'clock this morning there was a crowd that was estimated at from 10,000 to 50,000 at the station and along the street to the Congress Hotel, his destination. Marching clubs from the Cook County Democratic Club, Iroquois Club, Jefferson Club, Southern Club, and various other organizations were in the parade that followed the Governor's auto. The streets were black with people, but there was very little enthusiasm, which may have been due to the inclement weather, for it drizzled all the morning. At 11:30 o'clock the Governor was taken to the Southern Club, where an informal reception was held, and at noon he spoke at McVicker's Theater to the capacity of the house. The Governor got a tremendous ovation when he was introduced by Mayor Harrison.

Gov. Wilson hardly had started his address when it became apparent that there were Bull Moosers in the crowd. If there is anything Gov. Wilson likes it is an interruption or a contradiction from the audience. When a Bull Moose in the gallery undertook to start a demonstration for Roosevelt, others in the crowd demanded that he be put out, and the police were about to carry out the order, when Gov. Wilson said: "No, don't put him out. Don't put anybody out. If there is a Bull Moose in the house, he is just the man I want to talk to."

The candidate's voice showed some improvement over yesterday, though it has not yet recovered its full strength.

Speaks of Trust Plank.

Gov. Wilson discussed his favorite topic—the trust plank in the third party programme, which calls for a commission to regulate the monopolies. The Governor said he had read this plank every day since the Bull Moose convention, so there could be no mistake in his mind as to just what it meant. He said, in part:

"The trust plank does not anywhere condemn monopoly, even by implication. It simply says that the trusts have been bad and must be made to be good. You know Mr. Roosevelt long ago classified trusts for us as good and bad, and he said that he was against only of the bad ones. Now he does not intend that there should be any more bad ones, and intends that they will be made good by discipline, applied by a commission of his own appointment. Now, I am afraid that the national administration having for sixteen years been under the constructive regulations of the trusts, it will be a family matter, when they are reversed and the other members of the family exercise the regulation."

The meeting over, the candidate went to the Iroquois Club, where he was entertained at luncheon and where another informal reception was held. In the afternoon he went to campaign headquarters and discussed the details of the campaign with members of the National Committee.
